INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Christian Horizons (Canada)

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Christian Horizons (Canada), which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2015, the statements of operations and changes in fund balances and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

CHRISTIAN HORIZONS (CANADA)

Notes to Financial Statements

Year ended March 31, 2015

Christian Horizons (Canada) (the "Organization") is a non-profit faith-based charitable Organization founded in 1977 and seeks to serve the person with exceptional needs through residential, vacation and ancillary programs. The Organization is incorporated under the Canada Not-for-profit Corporations Act without share capital. The Organization is a registered charity within the meaning of the Income Tax Act (Canada) and is exempt from income taxes.

1. Significant accounting policies:

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada Handbook Part III – Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations. The Organization's significant accounting policies are as follows:

(a) Fund accounting:

The Organization follows the restricted fund method of accounting for contributions using the following funds:

The operating fund reflects the unrestricted donations and other fees for service contributed to the Organization, which have not been specifically designated.

The capital fund reflects the assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses related to the capital assets.

The restricted fund represents funds received by the Organization that have been internally designated for specific projects.

(b) Revenue recognition:

Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the restricted fund. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the operating fund.

(c) Measurement uncertainty:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the year. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the carrying amount of capital assets, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, pension obligations, and valuation allowances for receivables. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(d) Capital assets:

Capital assets are recorded at cost. Amortization is provided in the accounts using the following method and annual rates:

| Asset | Basis | Rate |
|------------------------|---------------|------|
| Buildings | Straight-line | 5% |
| Leasehold improvements | Straight-line | 10% |

(e) Contributed services:

A substantial number of volunteers contribute a significant amount of their time each year. Due to the difficulty of determining the fair value, contributed services are not recognized in the financial statements.

(f) Financial instruments:

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition and are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value.

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, the Organization determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset or the amount the Organization expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(g) Employee future benefits:

The Organization has pension plans for the Senior Leadership Team. These plans are registered defined benefit pension plans and provide pension benefits based on years of service, years of contributions and final average earnings. The Organization accrues its obligations under the defined benefit plans as the employees render the services necessary to earn the pension benefits. The defined benefit obligation at the end of the year is determined based on the most recent actuarial valuation report prepared for accounting purposes. The measurement date of the plan assets and the accrued benefit obligation coincide with the Organization's fiscal year. The most recent actuarial valuations of the pension plans prepared for accounting purposes range from January 1, 2012 to May 30, 2014, and the next required valuation ranges from January 1, 2015 to March 30, 2017.

In years between valuations, the Organization uses a roll-forward technique to estimate the accrued benefit obligation. The Organization recognizes the defined benefit obligation net of the fair value of the plan amounts adjusted for any valuation allowance in the statement of financial position at the end of the year. The cost of the plan, comprising (i) changes in the defined benefit obligation other than those resulting from benefit payments to plan members; (ii) the amount of any plan assets transferred and any payments made directly by the Organization in connection with a settlement; (iii) the actual return on plan assets; and (iv) the change in the valuation allowance is recorded in income.

The remeasurement and other items are immediately recognized as an adjustment of fund balances.

Remeasurements and other items comprise the aggregate of: the difference between the actual return on plan assets and the return calculated using the discount rate; the actuarial gains and losses; the effect of any valuation allowance in the case of a net defined benefit asset; the past service costs; and the gains and losses arising from settlements and curtailments.

2. Change in accounting standard:

Effective April 1, 2014, the Organization adopted the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada new Handbook Sections 3462, Employee Future Benefits and 3463, Reporting Employee Future Benefits by Not-For-Profit Organizations.

Under the new standard, actuarial gains and losses and past services costs are no longer deferred and amortized over future periods, rather they are immediately recognized as a change in fund balance that is calculated by applying a prescribed discount rate to the net defined benefit obligation.
